Incredible as it may appear, the belief nevertheless is entertained in many quarters that the reign of fanaticism in Massachusetts is drawing to a certain and rapid close. The Journal of Commerce says : "From what we hear, there is an extensive backing down in the old Bay State from what a year ago was considered the only true position. A Boston gentleman, not heretofore known as a democrat, remarked the other day that, if that party should bring forward a popular candidate for governor at the next November election, he believed he would be chosen. We were not expecting Massachusetts just yet, but, when honest men find they have been purposely duped and humbugged for political effect, they are very apt to remember it." A Boston correspondent of the New York Tribun

"The Traveller and the Springfield Republican, the leading republican papers of the State, both favor the nomination of Mr. Banks for governor as the only prac-ticable measure, and as the only one that can save us from utter datruction."

HON MILES TAYLOR.

It gives us much pleasure to state that Hon. Miles Taylor has been renominated for Congress by the democrats of the second district, Louisiana. This renewed evidence of confidence on the part of his constituents was alike due to his ability no less than his fidelity as a representative.

AFFAIRS IN KANSAS. .

Under date of June 4, a travelling corresponder of the St. Louis Republican has written an interesting letter relative to the affairs of Kansas, from which we make the following extracts:

we make the following extracts:

"The message of Gov. Walker gives very general satisfaction. Some of the abolitionists do not like it, as a matter of course, but it will be found an able State paper, and reflects great credit on the governor, who is already popular with those who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The governor will aim to be just to all parties, and goes to work in earnest. He will have an eye to such great measures of internal improvement as will be feasible and called for by the rapid settlement of this great central territory. The emigration to Kansas has been unparalleled in the history of any country, and the facilities for communication must be corresponding.

"The legislature of Kansas has already chartered several railroads.

The city of Leavenworth is improving beyond precedent, and real estate has greatly advanced in value. Good business lots, however, can be had for from $2,500 to $4,000. It is a beautiful city, and the mechanics are busy as bees. New and substantial brick buildings are in the course of erection. The large Planters' House, 48 by 110 feet, 4 stories, with addition of 30 by 30 feet, with the Shawnee House, Leavenworth Hotel, St. George's Hotel, and other hotels, are not sufficient to accommodate the travelling public, and a new large and splendid hotel is about to be erected in the southern part of the

New towns and cities are springing up all along the river every few miles, some of them under favorable auspices, while others must trust to the misfortunes of ad-verse fate. Agents for the sale of these lots are at every corner of the street and have the most reasonable arguments in their favor. A heavy speculation in that line is

The Richmond South has transposed and published a part of a short editorial article of the Union, in relation to the inaugural address of Gov. Walker in Kansas, and drawn from it conclusions, and attributed to us sentiments, wholly unwarranted by anything in that, or in anything else that we have ever written, uttered, or published in the Union. All that we have to say to the South at present is, to ask of its courtesy, or justice, to publish our article in full, and let its readers draw their own conclusions, and see for themselves whether it con tains the sentiments and opinions attributed to it.

Among the distinguished strangers now at the seat of government may be mentioned Gov. Meriwether, of the Territory of New Mexico; Gov. Izard, of the Territory of Nebraska; Hon. D. E. Sickles; Mr. Comstock, of the Albany Argus; Mr. Comstock, of the Springfield (Mass.) Argus; and C. S. G. Goodrich, (Peter Parley.) United States consul at Paris.

A UNIT.

The Federal (Georgia) Union says:

"The democratic candidates for Congress at the late election in Virginia are elected in every district. In the last Congress, J. S. Carlile, know-nothing, represented the 11th district. He is defeated by A. G. Jenkins. Sam is, therefore, without a representative from Viginia in the next Congress. Let us all give thanks, and so demean ourselves in the coming contest in Georgia that it may be said of our democracy they knew their duty and did it well."

Resolved, That the democratic party of New Hampshire, speaking through its representatives, in convention assembled, brands as a falsehood the charge so often made by its adversaries that it favors the extension of slavery; but, standing on the broad ground of non-intervention, declares that it is willing to leave the question where the constitution has left it—with the people—uninfluenced by any interference from outsiders whatsoever.

Resolved, That four years of abounding prosperity—a strict construction of the constitution in the exercise of federal power, and a firm maintenance of the rights of the States—a surplus in the treasury sufficient to extinguish their national debt—a valuable extension of our territorial limits—amicable and advantageous adjustment of long-pending foreign questions—peace with all the nations of the earth, without the slightest compromise of right or honor—attest the fidelity, wisdom, and statesmanship of the late, and vindicates the policy of all pretions of the earth, without the signest compromise or right or honor—attest the fidelity, wisdom, and states-manship of the late, and vindicates the policy of all pre-

Resolved, That we recognise in the election of the distinguished statesmen, James Buchanan and John C.
Breckinridge, as President and Vice President of the United States, the triumph of truth over error, and of patriotic devotion to the Union over all the elements of sectional fanaticism; and that we pledge to President Buchanan

DEATH OF GEN. WALBACH. -Gen. John DeBarth Walbach, the oldest officer in the United States army, died at his residence in Baltimore on Wednesday night, in the General Walbach was born at Alsace, on the Rhine, in October, 1764, and entered the military service at an early age. In December, 1782, he was ensign in the Royal Alsace regiment, (French service,) which belonged to Prince Maximilian, its colonel, who was afterwards the King of Bavaria. In January, 1786, he was second lieutenant in the Lauzun Hussars, (French service,) and in May, 1789, was promoted to the post of first lieutenant. Returning then to his native country, he entered the German service in October, 1793, as a captain in the Rohan Hussars, and in November, 1795, received a commission as major in the same corps. In 1796 he came to America, landing at Philadelphia, where in April, 1798, he became the volunteer aid-de-camp of Brigadier General McPherson, (subsequently in the United States service.) His father, having a large estate in this country, located at Philadelphia and in Virginia. Young Walbach determined upon studying law, and for that purpose went into the office of Alexander Hamilton, at New York. But, having a fondness for the life of a soldier, he applied for and obtained, on the 10th of January, 1799, a commission as lieutenant of cavalry in the army of the United States. This commission, he has frequently told his friends, he received from General Washington, who, although he had retired from the presidency, had been appointed commander-in-chief of the army in expectation of a war with France.

Gen. Walbach's first active service in the army of the United States was as an aid to Gen. Wilkinson on the rontier, and throughout his whole career he bore a high reputation as a gallant officer and strict disciplinarian. In the war of 1812-'14 he bore a conspicuous part, and was twice breveted for gallant conduct. In 1807 he married a lady of Philadelphia, from which marriage there are one son and three daughters living. In his carat Frankford arsenal, at Old Point Comfort, and at Annap olis. In the late war with Mexico he desired to take part, but his age prevented the consummation of his

He resided in Baltimore a number of years, and was generally esteemed and respected. While in the active ervice it was a custom with him to be on familiar term of friendship with all the junior officers of his command but required a close observance of all the military rules. He was a man of extraordinary constitution, and until within a year past possessed a degree of activity rarely found in men of less years, while his health was almost uninterrupted.

About seven o'clock on Sunday evening last he was at tacked with hernia of the abdomen, and sunk rapidly until he died.—Intelligencer.

THE NEW YORK BURDELL TRAGEDY AT THE NATIONAL THEATRE.—Following out the most prominent incidents in this mysterious homicide, Mr. English has placed upon in this mysterious homicide, Mr. English has placed upon the stage a play of startling interest. The characters— such as Dr. Burdell, Eckel, Snodgrass, Mrs. Cunning-ham, &c.—are represented to the life, and without the least prejudice to either. As the jury have acquitted Mrs. C., so does the play; and as Eckel has not been tried, nothing is introduced to lead the public mind away from the facts that have been already published. The exterior and interior of Dr. Burdell's house is a newly-painted scene, representing the different apartments of the characters, and the action during the day and night, witnessed by the audience, is truly interesting. In the the characters, and the action during the day and night, witnessed by the audience, is truly interesting. In the night the assassin is seen entering from the roof, and the murder is witnessed as it has been graphically described in the journals—a scene which is viewed with an almost breathless attraction. As a drama of real life it is unsurpassed. This evening it is performed for the last time but one.—Boston Herald.

A NOBLE ACT REWARDED. - A full and splendid set silver service was recently presented to Miss Caroline R. Seabury by the citizens of Columbus, Mississippi, as a testimonial of their appreciation of the noble and self-sacrificing disposition evinced by her in the service which she gratuitously rendered as nurse in a case of small-pox, from which friends and acquaintances fled in terror. The committee appointed to present the offering addressed her as follows:

THE MARYLAND AVENUE HOMICIDE.—Coroner ward held an inquest yesterday on the body of the young man that was accidentally killed on Thursday at Mr. Ger hardt's restaurant, on Maryland avenue, near the Capi tol. After a thorough investigation of the matter, th parties who were assaulting his house and wife, which parties the said Schoulte was driving from the premises of the said Gerhardt, by whom the said Schoulte was of the said Gerhardt, by whom the said Schoulte was employed as bar-keeper. We find that the ball entered the right breast of the deceased, about one inch from the right nipple, and, after passing through the breast, came out near the surface of the skin just under the left arm. We also find that the deceased was a poor man, and had

WORKS OF ART-Mr. Wm. Rutherford, on Estreet north between 12th and 13th streets, and who is extensively engaged in marble works, has just received from Italy number of elegantly-executed human figures, typifying Grief, Hope, and Religion; and, in addition, children asleep. Two chubby boys, probably six-year-olds, are especially attractive. The collection is the admiration of all beholders. Mr. Rutherford is an enterprising citizen, and seeks, by his own beautiful manufactures in marble as well as by importations, to encourage the taste for fine arts, while promoting his own individual prosperity of which he is eminently worthy. Having ourselves de rived pleasure from an inspection of his premises, we give this public notice voluntarily, that others may be induced to enjoy a similar gratification.

A DANGEROUS PLAYTHING .- It is stated that "there have been several cases where the new cent has been swallowed by children, and in which great irritation of the stomach and bowels has followed, because of the corresive nature of the metals composing it, as well as of it mechanical action upon the delicate mucous surfaces." We trust that mothers or other guardians of children in this vicinity have too much sense to give the new coin to the juveniles who cannot understand that it is difficult to pass it in the manner above described. But yet it does no harm to call attention to the subject.

Longings, - During the month of May one hundred and eleven persons were accommodated with lodgings at the central guard-house. Poor human beings, outcasts from refined society, who could not sing the song of "No place like Home"—for they have none! It may be of interest to those who have never enjoyed the hospitality of bedsteads, are made of pine boards; but even these a preferable to out-door lodgings on the public mall at this season of the year. In lieu of covering, the lodgers have the gratuitous use of the heat from the stove, wheneve such additional warmth is demanded by shivering hu

Arrival of the George Law.

New York, June 12.—The steamer George Law, with the California mails of the 20th May, arrived here today. The Sonora brought down nearly $2,500,000 in gold. She passed the Golden Age on the 24th, bound up. with the New York passengers of the 5th of May.

The ships-of-war Independence and St. Mary's were off Panama, and the Wabash was off Aspinwall. Intelligence from San Juan del Norte states that over one hundred of Walker's men are still at that place destitute and sick.

It is reported at Panama that the Chincha islands are to be placed under the joint protectorate of England and France. A correspondent of the Panama Star, writing from Lima May 12th, says:

"The convention has closed its secret session on the question of the English and French protectorate of the Chincha islands. They vote to-day, and their vote is expected to be favorable to the proposition."

at Arequipa with a small force, but no means. The Peruvian flect at the Chincha islands had been surrendered to the government, and were anchored at Callao. The sloop of war John Adams was at the Chinchas. Business at Lima was improving rapidly. The other South American States were generally tranquil.

The Panama Star expresses a strong fear that General Walker, in conformity with threats made by him after the capitulation, will return to the isthmus with another army of fillibusters, and regrets that General Mora did not bind him and his officers, in the terms of the capitulation, to not again put foot in Central America.

The news from California was not of general importance. The papers give the details of the massacre of Capt. Crabbe and his party. The execution appears to have been marked by incidents of unusual cruelty. Crabbe himself was led out alone, his arms tied above his head to a post, and his body riddled by a hundred bullets. The excitement in California over this intelligence seems to be intense, and it is feared that some general plan of revenge against the Mexicans will be adopted.

The mines were yielding largely. Business had not much improved. The money market was easier, and stocks were quiet.

from motives which i think will be understood and appreciated by democrats everywhere. In conclusion, I desire to say a few words to subscribers, and to such as may hereafter become subscribers. There is now owns to the Union setablishment upwards of seventy thousand deliars for back subscriptions. These enormous arrearges are the result of the credit system. With the new viluna upon which the Union has entered that system is abandoused, and hereafter the business of the establishment will be conducted on strictly each principles. No subscriptions for the Dully, Semi-weekly, or Weekly issue will be received unless accompanied with the advance payments.

New Volume, New Types, and New Arrangements.

House,
PROPRIETORS OF THE PREMIUM CHAMPAGNE, CREMANT CABINET, TO THE NATIONAL DEMOCRACY OF THE UNITED STATES. THE undersigned takes this method of informing the members of the great national democratic party that, having assumed the sole proprietorship and editorship of the Wassincores Union, he looks to them for that countenance, encouragement, an apport which has hitherto been extended to this time-benored organ of the democracy, and without which his labors would indeed be profitted. MPORTERS of Cogmac brandies for druggists and morchants use, from Otard, Dupny, & Co., Hennessey, Pinet, Castillon, & Co., and other houses of the highest reputation; and sole proprietors of the celebrated brandles, in the utility proof and flavor of rictors of the celebrated brandles, in egnac, viz : Vineyard of Chateau Pernard, support which has hitherto been extended to this time-honored organ of the democracy, and without which his labors would indeed be profilless.

Under the new arrangement, the typegraphical appearance of the Cnion has been entirely changed and improved. New and beautiful type is now used in its daily, somi-weekly, and weekly issues, and the paper apon which it is printed as or an extra superior quality. It is my intention to enlarge its size, as the demands or the necessities of the future may require; and it is my fixed purpose to spare neither expense nor effort to make it the great central organ of the democratic party, every way worthy of their confidence and support, and it reliable and faithful medium of communication between the capital and the country. Having for many years exerted my best efforts to bring Mr. Buchanan into the presidential chair, I shall render to him and to his administration all the support which party ties and personal friend-ship can inspire. A great crisis in the affairs of the country—a crisis fraught with perit and slanger to the rights of the States and the permanency of the Union—demonstrated to the national democracy and the patriotic people of the country that his acknowledged talents, matured wisdom, approved statesmanship, and long experience, were necessary to their peace and safety, and they placed him, with neckamations, at the head of the government and the nation. He realized at once their hopes and expectations by calling to his assistance a cabinot of men combining the rarest qualifications of alculus, experience, and the policy in supporting and sustaining the principles, the measures, and the country in supporting and sustaining the principles, the measures of the country in supporting and sustaining the principles, the measures of the country in approxing and sustaining the principles, the measures of the constitution, and the Union its, it fails far short of those dangerous fauntical sheets that are literally spread broadcast over the free States, and which they

THE subscribers, grateful for past favors, and finding that a discriminating public were bestowing their patronage to that extent that more warerooms were necessary to exhibit all their stock, have enlarged their depot, by opening an extensive ware and salesroom on Broadway, at No. 251, corner of Murray street, opposite the Giy Hall. This enlargement of warehouse room, with the recent extensive enlargement of their factory, will enable the subscribers to keep on hand at all times a larger stock of fire and burglar-proof safes than any other establishment in the world. Particular attention will be had to constructing safes for private families to match with other furniture, for the security of plate and lewelry.

ALSO—

Will keep on hand and make to order all kinds of money chests, wall doors, and bank vanits. Hall's patent powder-proof locks for banks or store doors; Jones's patent permutation bank lock; and Crygier's patent letter lock, without key.

THESE machines combine all the improvements that have been invented. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the manimous approval and commendation that they have received, warrant the proprietors in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

Among the undoubted advantages that they possess over all others, are:

1st. Beauty and simplicity of construction, and consequent freedom om derangement and need of remains.

rom derangement and need of repairs.

2d. Unexampled case and rapidity of operation.

3d. Noiseless movement.

4th. The remarkable perfection of their stitching, and their applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.
